

Le Portine Toscana, IGT, 2012

Poggiolo S.A.S of Bonfio Luca & C.

Tenuta Poggiolo now known as Bonfio is an estate located in the heart of Chianti Colli Senesi. The different vineyards, in total 230 hectares, have their own microclimates, and special care is given to the processing of the grapes to make wines which express the subtle differences.

Le Portine is named after the portals in the 14 towers surrounding the ancient walled city of Monteriggione, where time seems to have stood still since the 13th century.

Tasting Notes

Le Portine is made of Sangiovese, and has a ruby red color with garnet reflections. In the nose it presents a composite bouquet, slightly ethereal and soft, along with hints of plum. The taste is harmonious with great structure, the aftertaste is long and persistent with soft and lingering tannins.
